

Summarization of articles

Main topics

PARIS - FRENCH - PARISIAN - MEDIAPART

Summary

- Lawyers and rights groups reacted with outrage after a recording was released on the investigative website Mediapart of the police officer repeatedly insulting the woman and questioning her case.
- The police officer has not been named.
- Later that day, another officer called the woman's phone from the police station.
- The feminist group Osez le Feminisme questioned the police officer's work environment.
- It said: "How is it that a police officer feels he has the right to talk like that about a victim in front of his colleagues?"

My remarks

I do not have any remark.